Cargo

Teapot

Two works of Boca Raton Photographer Katherine "Katy" Morgan were selected to show in the upcoming HEAVY METAL juried exhibition in the Orlando Museum of Art, OMA, for a 1st Thursdays juried exhibition.

The "teapot" image includes an iron teapot from the 1850's ; and the other is entitled "cargo", which is a view showing the controversial stacked cargo which flows in and out of our docks with faultless security in this world of unrest. Morgan says, "... my intrigue was to carefully capture the cantilevered effects of the containers and the juxtaposition of the colors and patterns."
